

We are looking for an ambitious, talented

Trainee Journalist (f/m)

to become editor in our specialized journals for the engineering industries in the near future.

Candidates should have an excellent command of the English language (both written and oral) or be native speakers. Command of the usual office software is required, IT affinity highly appreciated for our online business segment.

The position is based in the university city of Mainz in Germany and Leinfelden (near Stuttgart). Occasional travel (mainly within Europe) is required, as is attendance at international trade exhibitions (worldwide).

On-the-job training is supplemented by the company's comprehensive training programme for journalists and German language courses can be arranged if required.

Interested? Susan Kunze is looking forward to receiving your application.

Only via e-mail to bewerbung@konradin.de

The Konradin Publishing Group specializes in communication and information services, providing expert, user oriented information across a broad range of fields. The portfolio of products ranges from trade and special interest magazines to specialist books, e-papers, online portals, newsletters, seminars, congresses and individual, target group specific projects.

Konradin Mediengruppe
Ernst-Mey-Straße 8 | 70771 Leinfelden-Echterdingen
www.konradin.de

konradin
mediengruppe